

AIMÉE PUENTES

ACTOR, SINGER, INSTRUCTOR

After I graduated with my BM from SFSU, I was looking for ways to supplement my income. I started working as a choir teacher at an elementary school and soon was giving private lessons to many of the school children. I absolutely loved working with young singers and quickly decided that teaching was another musical passion and gift. Although I enjoy working with students of all ages, I realized that the age range I was particularly interested in teaching was the college level, which is when being a professional singer in Opera and Musical Theatre became a goal for me, as it has for many others. There is nothing more satisfying than helping a student reach their highest potential.
